

Adventure and Outdoor Education

Experiences and group activities in authentic environments

What?

Adventurous, safe and goal-oriented activities guided by professional adventure and outdoor educators. Adventure and outdoor education is practised in schools, youth work, social work and therapy.

How?

Adventure education challenges participants to face unpredictable outcomes. The method improves physical and psychological selfknowledge, strengthens social skills and enhances individuals' sense of responsibility, resourcefulness and courage.

Characteristics and values of Finnish Adventure and Outdoor Education

Professional adventure and outdoor educators share a common understanding of how experiences and social interaction influence personal growth and learning. Nature and other authentic environments challenge, revitalise and open new perspectives in everyday roles and ways of doing things and courses of action.

Join the adventure!

Regional networks are open to everyone: Share your knowledge and experiences, get to know interesting local places and activities! The national advisory board develops and coordinates Finnish adventure and outdoor education in cooperation with the Finnish Youth Centres Association.
